

SCHOLARSHIP APPLICATION

The Greater Austin Contractors and Engineers Association (ACEA) is a non-profit association consisting of contractor, engineering, and associate firms. Our mission is to promote the business interests of local engineers who design our streets, roads, utilities and drainage facilities, the contractors who build them, and the businesses that provide the engineers and contractors with supplies, equipment, and services.

A focus of our group is to improve our community by maintaining a scholarship program that provides financial support to high school seniors. The amount and monetary awards for scholarships are determined yearly by the ACEA Board of Directors.

There will be four general scholarships awarded in 2017, as well as the James "Jim" Brewer Memorial Scholarship. The James "Jim" Brewer Memorial Scholarship, created in April 2016, is in honor of Jim after his passing from a two-year battle with pancreatic cancer and is to be given to seniors who will attend Texas A & M University. Jim was a Texas A & M University alumni and a member of the Corps of Cadets. He also served as an ACEA Board of Director (2012-2016), as the ACEA Treasurer (2012-2016), and as the ACEA Symposium chair (2012-2013).

Deadline is April 1 of the current year. Scholarship application packets must be mailed/postmarked or delivered to our office (information is listed at the bottom of this form). Emailed applications will not be accepted, only questions pertaining to the process. Incomplete applications without required documents will not be considered.
